PAINTER BLOWN FROM A LADDER

In Miniature Cyclone South of City; Small Bldgs. are Carried Off

A miniature cyclone struck the farm of August Mundstock in Mormon coulee yesterday, sweeping away small outbuildings and doing other minor damage to the place.

Instead of the usual veil of sorrow prevailing over the devastated district after a cyclone, the scene at the Mundstock farm was like a comedy. The ludicrous situations in which many found themselves was responsible for the jollity.

C. Johnson, member of the firm of A. & C. Johnson, paperhangers, 304 South Fourth street, brought details of the cyclone to the city yesterday. Mr. Johnson had a crew of men at work painting on the farm at the time of the cyclone, early in the afternoon.

One painter was blown from a ladder with a pail of paint in his hand, the contents of the pail being daubed upon his person. He aided in making a comedy of the situation.

A brick smokehouse was moved twenty feet by the terrific force of the wind. At the sign of the approach of the storm, ropes were fastened to the windmill and the structure saved in this manner, although the mill is tilted to one side now. The men were unable to hold it.

Two painters could not control one ladder, the wind whisking it from their grasp like a straw.

Small outbuildings and sheds were blown down by the storm. Other farmers nearby did not suffer, the storm striking the Mundstock farm alone and proceeding up the valley.

In the city the wind obtained a great velocity but beyond a few tree branches being blown down, no damage was done.

Time when a beautiful library table was rolled in and presented by Prof. Harry Spence with a few very appropriate remarks in behalf of the congregation.

After this a fine program which had been prepared for the occasion, was rendered. Miss Bessie Herrington entertained the audience with a fine selection on the piano after which some numbers were sung by the choir.

All enjoyed the evening very much and the surprise upon Rev. and Mrs. Turner was certainly unexpected.

HEART SOFTENS FOR ASSAILANT

The dove of peace floated triumphant in Judge Brindley's court yesterday.

At sword's points and eyes aflame, Anna Haniff and John Houska appeared in the morning. Mrs. Haniff charged Houska with assault and battery, the outcome of a neighborhood row in which bad names were exchanged. She alleged that Houska grabbed her by the arm, tearing her dress and otherwise injuring her.

Upon a plea of not guilty, Judge Brindley adjourned the case until 3 o'clock. Again the defendant and complainant appeared, but there was no sign of hostility between them. The case was dismissed upon the complaint being withdrawn.

MYSTERY SHROUDS AFFAIR

Rumor Says Front St. Saloon Keeper Was Struck by Someone

Thomas W. Ryan, saloonkeeper, 201 South Front street, was found lying in a pool of blood in bed this morning by his wife. A deep gash on the back of the head was discovered. How the injury was inflicted is unknown, rumors of a domestic quarrel being heard, while it also is said that another man inflicted the gash.

At the Ryan home today, it was given out that Mr. Ryan had fallen during the night, later returning to bed to be found by his wife. Dr. E. Evans was called this morning to attend to the injuries. The physician says the wound is not serious.

Mr. Ryan and wife had a tiff last evening, say neighbors. Mrs. Ryan retiring alone, sleeping in another room from her husband. This morning when she awoke and went to his room she found the bed covered with blood and her husband injured. At first it was thought he had been killed.

"Mr. Ryan fell down during the night, probably against the kitchen stove," said the bartender at the saloon this afternoon. "There was no quarrel as far as I know."

The police say that quarrels are of frequent occurrence between the pair, taking place almost daily. Little attention is paid to them by the department.

The theory also is advanced that a stranger assaulted Mr. Ryan while in bed last night, hitting him with a blunt instrument.

Mr. Ryan was confined to his bed this afternoon and morning. No one was able to see him.

AT THE THEATERS

Tonight the patrons of the La Crosse theater will be given an opportunity to pass judgment upon Mr. Chas. E. Blancy's latest production, "Young Buffalo, King of the Wild West." While this is essentially a western play, it should not be confused with others that use our great west as a background.

During the past ten years Mr. Blancy has written and produced many plays, but none has been so enthusiastic and sanguine of success as he is in his latest effort.

"Young Buffalo" is a typical American hero, and is surrounded by a congress of frontier characters of the sort that "shoot up things" when the notion strikes them, as well as manly, heroic kind, that are the basis of considerable western novels. Eight Bucks with four squaws and three papposes constitute the tribe of Sioux Indians who are with Chas. E. Blancy's "Young Buffalo, King of the Wild West" at the La Crosse theater tonight.

There is a sensational death in the first act of a "Human Slave," which comes to the La Crosse theater next Wednesday, October 10, under the direction of Sweet & Brown which is exceedingly effective and dramatic. An aged ironmaster, suffering from aneurism of the heart, learns that his daughter, a beautiful girl, and the pride of his heart, is in love with a young man who is working as a foreman, and who applies to him for a position as superintendent of his rolling mills. In a rage he drives his daughter from his office, but in his excitement is so intense that he falls dead. By a clever trick, the dead man's junior partner, who is an unmitigated scoundrel, and who is himself in love with the daughter, has secured the signature of the deceased to a fraudulent will which disinherits the child. The unfortunate couple are married, but it is not until the end of the play that they come again into their own. Managers Sweet & Brown made a superb scenic production of "A Human Slave," and a new company of artists of established reputation will be seen in the different parts.

AT THE UNIQUE

"Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone." So says Ella Wheeler Wilcox. People who visit the Unique theater this week not only laugh but roar. That funny farce comedy, "Papa's Coachman," will make anybody laugh. Stephen Fitzpatrick as Papa, Genevieve Cecil as Mama, Will J. Lahl as the Coachman, and Edward Lahl as the gardener, the man who applied for the position of coachman, are as funny a combination as have ever been seen on a stage in this city. Miss Ethel Lynam an amateur of La Crosse, as the daughter, who is about to elope with the coachman, certainly surprised her numerous friends and many favorable comments were made both on her singing and acting, which were marvelous, considering this was her first appearance on a vaudeville stage.

Lahl and Cecil kept the house in an uproar while they were on the stage. As comedians they cannot be beaten. As a German comedian Lahl is the best man that has been seen here for many years.

The Unique still continues to have packed houses and everybody goes satisfied. The management will furnish an opportunity for local talent to display their ability on the stage every week when application is made to Stephen Fitzpatrick at the theater.

AT THE BIJOU

This week should be a record breaker at the Bijou.

A performance such as has never been witnessed in the history of La Crosse in a vaudeville theater is on the boards this week.

The Gilroy, Haynes and Montgomery trio are singers of quality, and their work was certainly appreciated last evening. They were encored again and again. The title of their act is "The Good Ship Nancy Lee." Their stage setting and special scenery is magnificent. The scene opens on deck of ship and Capt. Nansen is seen giving orders to the crew below. When he discovers that he has a stowaway aboard who proves to be of great amusement for the captain and the passengers on board. One of the passengers is a beautiful young lady (Kitty Montgomery) who can sing. Capt. Nansen immediately appoints the stowaway whose name is Tiny, cabin boy, and then the fun commences. Mr. Haynes sings "I'm the Captain of the Nancy Lee" for an opener. The next number is by Miss Montgomery, a beautiful Irish march song entitled "Colleen Baun." The trio then sing "On the Banks of the Rhine with a Stein." This number is a winner and received hearty applause. The next number was the mirth-provoker, and started something like a panic. This number was entitled "Come Over on My Veranda." Mr. Gilroy's side splitting comedy throughout this song and the entire act is indeed deserving of special mention. The last number is an imitation of a steam caliope which is very clever. This act comes direct from the Olympic theater Chicago where it was featured last week. Besides the great trio, there is a splendid bill at the Bijou as usual.

WOMAN'S NATIONAL GOLF TOURNAMENT

(Special Tribune Service.)

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 9.—A small army of fair soldiers added gayety and animation to the Brae-Burn club links at West Newton today. It was the opening day of the twelfth annual women's golf championship, the highest golf honors in the United States. The intercity matches last week served as an excellent preliminary to the blue ribbon contest which will last throughout the present week.

That this year's affair will outshine any of its predecessors seems to be a foregone conclusion. To begin with the tournament is more truly national in its scope than has ever been the case in previous years. The entry list includes the best women golfers not only of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, but those of the west are equally well represented. The Chicago clubs have sent their best players and Denver, St. Louis and other cities have added to the list of western representatives.

Leaving the first championship, in 1895, at Meadow Brook—which was not under United States Golf association auspices—out of all calculations, it is interesting to glance over the records of past tournaments. It was at Morris county links in 1896, when the women first played for the perpetual Robert Cox trophy, that Miss Beatrix Hoyt, entering from Shinnecock, led the field with a score of 95, and eventually won out at match play. In a violent storm at the Essex County Club, Manchester, Mass., the following year, Miss Hoyt again led the field in the qualifying round with 108, and at the Ardley club in 1898, Miss Hoyt returned a 92 on the first day. The next year the same player led again at the Philadelphia Country Club, with 97, while at Shinnecock, in 1900, Miss Hoyt did a 94.

All this time the courses were steadily becoming longer, a fact noticeable the following year at Baltusrol, where four players tied at 97 for low score in the qualifying round. At Baltusrol the playing course was about 6,000 yards. The players came to the Country club of Brookline in 1902, playing over a much shorter course, which accounts for the 89 made in the stroke competition jointly by Miss Margaret Cureis and Miss Louisa Wells. Without doubt the most meritorious achievement from a scoring point of view was the 94 of Mrs. Caleb F. Fox over the long and difficult Wheaton course in 1903. The following year, at the Merion Cricket club, a much easier course, Miss Louisa Vanderhoof, Miss M. Curtis, and Miss Lottie Dod tied on the first day with 93. At the Morris country club last year the honors were carried off by Miss Pauline Mackay of Boston. At that tournament two players made an 87 in the qualifying round. It is predicted that some of the players will be able to make a round of 85 at Brae Burn this week.

AN EDITOR'S OPINION OF THE SCHOOL "OF TELEGRAPHY"

The affairs of the Morse School of Telegraphy at La Crosse are being investigated by the postal department says the New Algin (La.) News.

The "school" has owed us $5 for nearly a year, and we are unable to collect it. But Uncle Sam can't be monkeyed with as easily as a country publisher, and the "school" is finding it out.

The manager has been in the habit, it seems, of promising every prospective pupil employment during the term of school. After he had received the tuition fee of $65, however, he would decline to do anything toward providing employment for the pupil, thus throwing him upon his own resources and often leaving him in straightened circumstances and unable to complete the course. The victims being without funds to press a prosecution made the best of it in whatever way they could, and the "school" flourished, unmolested.

Last week, however, the manager tried his scheme on the wrong parties, and an investigation will be made. We had an idea that the Morse School of Telegraphy would come to grief. A concern that will not pay its just bills is generally also untrustworthy in other respects.

Those steps between the range and ironing board for trip after trip and ironing days without end. Are they worth anything to you? They are absolutely unnecessary.

Make that tiresome work a pleasure by using an electric flat iron.

Would you not consider ironing almost a pleasure when it can be finished quicker, done cheaper, cleaner, easier, better and without heating the room?

One Woman's Experience

Denied herself the use of an Electric Flat Iron for over a year because a neighbor told her it was so expensive. Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES

The Sunday afternoon men's meetings at the Young Men's Christian association have been resumed for the season. Charles Fuehler, assistant state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Wisconsin, was the speaker. His subject was "The Old Book" and a strong appeal was made for bible study.

The chorus of male voices under the direction of Prof. Kerr, rendered an appropriate selection which added greatly to the enjoyment of the meeting.

There was a goodly number of men present and the committee hopes that the meetings may soon have to be held in the association auditorium owing to the limited accommodation of the lecture hall.

Last week activities started in the physical culture department. The attendance at the gymnasium classes was good. No less than thirty-five boys lined up for regular class work on Saturday morning. The older boys are putting in special practice on an exhibition drill to be given at the educational rally. The special classes in the gymnasium for business and professional men begin Tuesday, October 16 at five o'clock.

Arrangements are going ahead in a most encouraging manner for the educational rally which takes place tomorrow night. Interesting speakers have been secured and a splendid program arranged. Refreshments will be a feature of the evening's entertainment.

The classes in the night school commence Monday, October 15.

The association annual prospectus has been issued and copies may be had by applying to the office. The prospectus is a larger and finer announcement than has heretofore been issued by the association and contains full information pertaining to the several departments—physical, educational, religious, social and boys. Every young man in La Crosse may and should have a copy.

BOYS CHASE PRIZES IN BALLOONS

Continental Attempts New Piece of Advertising

Probably the most unique piece of advertising ever attempted by a La Crosse mercantile establishment is that which the Continental Clothing House will exploit next Friday evening.

It will occur at 8 o'clock in the evening. Then, not the balloon, but the balloons go up. Twenty-four of them—great paper affairs filled with heated air that will tow them off into space until cold air mixes with the warm, reducing the expansion and permitting them to settle to the ground.

In each balloon there will be a card. That makes twenty-four cards. Each card entitles the bearer to some valuable article of men's or boys' wearing apparel. That makes twenty-four prizes.

The event has been well advertised, and it will be a great sight to watch the boys go after those balloons. "Keep your eye on the balloon," is the advice of Manager Boehm to the boys. You bet they will! There will be hundreds of boys there, and every boy will pick out a balloon and make a race for the place he thinks it will land. It will be worth while, too, for the prizes are worth having. There will be a moment of hesitation when the balloons jump up into the air. The boys will each "spot" a balloon. Then the stampede will begin. It will be great fun, and a great race. Perhaps some of the boys will wear their football suits for the scrimmage at the finish.

In yesterday's advertisement in The Tribune it was stated that the balloons were to go up Monday. That was a mistake. The date is Friday, Oct. 12th, at 8 o'clock p. m.

EIGHTEEN YEARS IN HIDING

(Tribune Special Service.)

DUBLIN, Oct. 9.—The police barracks at Market Hill, County Armagh, has just been the scene of a startling incident which recalls one of the most remarkable crimes in Irish history for the past twenty years. In the early part of 1888 a man named William Thompson was convicted of the murder of his brother-in-law and sentenced to death. He was respited and sent to penal servitude for life. The man afterwards developed insanity, and was removed to a lunatic asylum near Dublin. From that institution he escaped a few months later, and although the whole country was scoured no trace of him was ever found.

The tragedy occurred on March 2, eighteen years ago in the little church of Knocknamuckley, which is prettily situated on the borders of counties Down and Armagh. There was the usual bustle and excitement which heralds an Irish village wedding where the parties are well known and popular. The groom, Thomas Thompson, was being married for the second time, his first wife being a sister of William Thompson, the escaped convict. Just before the time fixed for the ceremony, William appeared in the church, and took a seat in a pew near the altar. A few moments later the wedding party, consisting of the bride and bridegroom and attendants, proceeded up the aisle. As the bridegroom passed the pew in which his brother-in-law was sitting the latter, to everybody's horror, drew a revolver and, presenting it within a few inches of the hapless groom, fired. The wounded man fell into the arms of his bride, his blood coloring her wedding gown and forming a pool on the floor of the church. Although every effort was made to save his life he died the following day. His last words were words of forgiveness for his murderer. Thompson exhibited

OLD TIME TELE-GRAPHERS

(Tribune Special Service.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—The Old Time Telegraphers' and Historical association and the Society of the United States Military Telegraph Corps began their 26th annual reunion in Washington this morning with a business session at the Hotel Arlington. Andrew Carnegie, Thomas A. Edison, Clarence H. Mackay, Col. Thomas T. Eckert, and L. C. Weir, president of the Adams Express company, are some of the old-timer key-board experts who are proud of their membership in the association. Excursions, receptions and banquets are features of the entertainment program.

"The Quest of the Useful" is the crand of the multitude—made easier, in half its aspects, by the fixed habit of "ad-reading."

"SOX" PITCHER LA CROSSE BOY

Patterson, Roy, pitcher for the champion "White Sox" of the American league, was born in La Crosse, Wis., on Dec. 17, 1877, but soon moved to St. Croix Falls, from which town he gained his title of "St. Croix Boy Wonder." He began pitching for an independent team in Duluth in 1897, and two years later joined Comiskey's St. Paul team of the Western league. Patterson has been with Comiskey ever since. He and Isbell are the only two players on the present team who came to Chicago with Comiskey from St. Paul when the franchise was transferred here. He pitches and bats right handed.

HARMFUL STOMACH DOSING

No Need of It When Hyomei Is Used to Cure Catarrh

Physicians and scientists agree that the less medicine one swallows, the better. It is in keeping with this idea that Hyomei is recommended by leading physicians throughout this and other catarrhal sections.

When this treatment is used in catarrhal troubles, there is no stomach dosing, for the medicine is taken in with the air you breathe, and goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, healing the inflamed and irritated mucous membrane, killing the disease germs and entering the blood with the oxygen, driving all catarrhal germs from the system.

Do not try to cure catarrh of the head by putting medicine into your stomach—this is a neither scientific nor commonsense treatment. Breathe the healing balsams of Hyomei and in a few days you will notice relief, and its continued use will result in a complete and lasting cure.

O. T. Erhart has seen so many cures made by Hyomei amongst his customers, several of them cases where all hope of relief had been given up, that he gives an absolute guarantee of cure, or money will be refunded, with every outfit he sells.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, while extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, are only 50 cents.

Your income—where it is spent, how much of it is paid out in penalties for "not knowing," what is brings you, how much of it remains to you—if these things are interesting, then the interest to you.

ANNIVERSARY OF CHICAGO FIRE

(Tribune Special Service.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 9.—Thirty-five years ago today a large section of Chicago was a raging furnace as a result of the act of Mrs. O'Leary's famous cow in kicking over a lighted lamp in its stable the night before. The fire burned more than twenty-four hours, during which time a tract of six square miles in the heart of the city was laid waste and property valued at $100,526,000 destroyed.

PLUNDER KILLS THIEF

ALTON, Ill., Oct. 9.—At the coroner's inquest over the body of Mary E. Wells, a negro servant at the home of B. Young (upper Alton), it was developed that the woman was stricken with apoplexy, caused from exhaustion while carrying a lot of plunder stolen from the home of her employer. The circumstances of her death frightened the negroes in Alton, who consider it as being a case of swift punishment for wrongdoing.

the most perfect composure during his trial for murder. Within a year after his conviction he escaped from the asylum in which he was confined and most exhaustive search disclosed no trace of his whereabouts, until the past week, eighteen years after the commission of his crime, he strolled into the police barracks and surrendered himself. He was apparently perfectly sane and his only explanation of his long absence was that he had been in America.

MUZZLE ALL THE DOGS

The city administration cannot take too seriously this mad dog scare. It cannot be puffed into insignificance. The bite of a dog with rabies is fatal, once the period of incubation expires without the intervention of the Pasteur treatment. Death from hydrophobia is accompanied by shocking agony.

"Maybe," and "after all" and "awaiting developments" are phrases not to be tolerated in a case of this kind. The fact is that no one knows how many dogs or what dogs have been bitten by infected animals. It is known that mad dogs have bitten other dogs, that is all. Do you know whether your dog was bitten? No, you can't know. He was kindly disposed when you met him tonight. How do you know he will not greet you with a mad snarl and sink his teeth into you tomorrow morning? He may attack your wife or your child. How would you like to be bitten by a mad dog? How would you like to have your wife or sister or mother or babe bitten by a mad dog?

No one can say to a certainty that there will be an outbreak of rabies springing from the recent exposures. But no one can deny that this is possible, if indeed it is not probable. Nor can one know when to expect it. The period of incubation is not definitely fixed. A dog bitten by another having hydrophobia may be attacked by the disease almost immediately. But he may not yield to the disease for weeks. Six weeks incubation is not uncommon, while even longer terms have been known.

So, unless steps to protect the public are taken, the people of this city cannot stir out of their houses for at least six weeks with any certainty that will not be attacked by a frothy-mouthed demon. The condition is intolerable.

Moreover, the danger of a great spread of the disease is a consideration. Dogs are wanderers. Your dog, even though domestically inclined, capers all over the city in a day. Suppose there are six dogs that have been exposed to hydrophobia, and that while coming down with the disease each one of them bites ten more dogs. That is conservative, and it means sixty cases of rabies. Suppose fifty of these sixty dogs bite ten more dogs each, we have five hundred cases of rabies. And how many people do you suppose the five hundred dogs would bite before they could be captured and disposed of?

The Tribune believes that this is a real crisis. It reiterates its opinion that every dog in La Crosse should, by order of the city authorities, be confined or muzzled from at least sixty days. The warning is ample, and if precautions are taken to protect the public, those in authority cannot escape responsibility for any disasters that follow.

DIRECT NEWS OF THE POST-SEASON GAMES

The Tribune has arranged to secure direct news of the world's championship games between the Chicago White Sox and the Chicago Cubs. It will get dispatches from the grounds, covering the contests accurately and fully. It has gone to some expense to secure this service, which will be in time for the edition of The Tribune on the evening upon which each game is played.

This is probably the most interesting post-season series ever arranged. Chicago had the good fortune to carry off both the National league and the American pennants. The Nationals won by steady baseball and good luck. The American club captured the prize in a remarkable and spectacular finish after having begun the season under a hoodoo and having played in hard luck with a crippled team until it finished the first third of the schedule in sixth place. It won out by remarkably strong management and uniformly sensational ball playing. The trying of conclusions between the two pennant winning teams will afford an exciting spectacle. Realizing the interest attached thereto, The Tribune has secured the services of a special correspondent at the grounds who will cover the games fully.

One really wouldn't know from the stalwart newspapers that there is in this state any such individual as Governor Davidson. Cannot the governor already see the political treachery of Boss Connor? It was Connor in Davidson's name, the wolf in sheep's garb, that won the election. Connor and the old stalwart guard imagine themselves back in the saddle. The advanced republicans who believed in Governor Davidson and gave him their support look to the governor to assert himself.

The Milwaukee Journal, a La Follette paper, urges the senator to bolt the ticket and fight the election of Davidson. It tells some plain truths, among which is the fact that to support Connor is to stultify himself. And what can the poor man do?

The life of one little ragmuffin child is more precious than the lives of all the dogs in the world.

It is to be hoped that the leading citizens will at least explain why they are sending the rubber mills out of the city. Or perhaps it isn't any of the city's d—n business.

President Roosevelt is said to aspire to Tom Platt's seat in the senate. To be comfortable he will have to build an addition on the seat.

JUST LIFE

Life is one sweet dream for the stove man.

Perhaps, as sheriff, Palmer could take the dampness out of the basement of the $50,000 court house that cost us $200,000.

Postmaster Tscherner would abolish "red tape," the very pretext upon which most federal officeholders appear to be really earning their swollen salaries.

Have no fear, gentle reader, there will be no new coal trust ORGANIZED. They're keeping quiet about the old one.

Yes, fuel is expensive.

And now all our summer savings must go to the stove man, coal man, clothes man that we may live to swelter through another summer.

It seems there are two "Morse Schools of Telegraphy." One contracts the bills and the other don't pay them.

Now what do you think would happen to the mayor if he went around killing all the dogs in town—that pet of yours, perhaps?

The autumn days have come, "the saddest of the year"—and the smaller the income the sadder.

Anyway Harry would post the sporting bulletins in the court house where the officials might remain at their desks and keep posted.

The following advertisement recently appeared in the Yorkshire Post: "Would any lady of means care to marry a poor, crowded-out clerk, age 37."

How perfectly horrible to have poor little Fido shot by a "nassy" of pleeceman."

John D. is right when he says it will be a detriment if we remove the opportunities which cause the individual to strive. However, John is doing his part to destroy the realization of young Ambition.

Of course the judge and jury were wrong and the city will appeal their decision.

Two-thirds of the 50,000 inhabitants of Jerusalem are Jews and many of them have blonde hair.

These are fine nights for the married men to go to lodge—so much doing downtown.

With a population of only about 3,500,000, Switzerland has a foreign trade of more than $400,000,000 a year.

Notice how the average homemaker tips his hat to the coal dealers these brisk fall mornings?

It is to be expected the "Cubs" will simply gnaw the stockings off the "Sox."

The number of murders and homicides decreased 2,000 in the United States during the last ten years.

If a coachman could usurp Senator Platt, seems he'd be an easy matter for Teddy.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS.

Camille Saint-Saens

M. Camille Saint-Saens, the distinguished French composer who is to conduct a series of concerts in America this winter, was born in Paris, Oct. 9, 1835. His musical education was conducted under the direction of Stamaty and Maleden and at the Paris Conservatory under Benoist and Halevy. M. As an executant he employs the organ. He was chosen a member of the Institute in 1881 and has the no less distinguished honor of being an LL. D. of Cambridge.

OSHKOSH WILL REMAIN IN WIS. STATE LEAGUE

Oshkosh will remain in the Wisconsin State League next season if the organization remains intact. The officials of the club have notified the players with a reserve clause in their contract that they will be asked to report for next season.

The Oshkosh Northwestern says:

In all probability if the Wisconsin State League of Professional Baseball clubs remain in existence another year Oshkosh will continue to be represented by a club in that league, it is stated by the members of the Oshkosh Baseball association and others in a position to know something about the matter. One of the evidences giving color to the correctness of this supposition is the statement made by Secretary E. M. Hooper of the Oshkosh Baseball association that all but two of the players on the Oshkosh team during the season recently closed have been reserved for the team next year. The exceptions are Pitcher Kerr and Second Baseman Gleason, neither of whom had a reserve clause in his contract.

Mr. Hooper states that all of the other players on the team at the close of the season have been notified that they will be reserved for next year under their respective contracts. He states that they were notified before September 25, as required by the rules of the league. The players claimed to be reserved are as follows: J. J. Moore, catcher; Manfred Mohr, James Crangle and Louis Stadler, pitchers; A. J. Bourgeois, first base; F. J. Schreiner, shortstop; George O'Leary, third base; Frank Graves, left field; Alvin Dolan, center field; Joseph C. Safford, right field.

There has been an impression that Alvin Dolan had been released altogether from the Oshkosh team, but Mr. Hooper says that this is erroneous. Mr. Dolan was released for the balance of the season, but under his contract he has been reserved for next season. Since his release Dolan has been playing with other teams, closing the season with the La Crosse champions. Schreiner has also been playing with other teams since the state league season closed.

Luther Burbank

(Originator of new forms of plant life.)

Says:

"Too much starch in our diet is a cause of no end of trouble."

"I believe that ill-balanced foods resulting in improper nourishment, are at the bottom of the causes leading up to tuberculosis."

We eat quantities of white bread, (starch) potatoes, (starch) pastry, (starch) wheat and oats, (starch) and wonder why we run down and have bowel troubles.

It's plain enough on thinking.

From too much starchy food the lower digestive machinery wears and fails to digest it. (Starch indigestion.) Then the partly digested starch lying in the moist warm place in the bowels, naturally decays, gases arise and irritation of the bowels results, showing in poor nourishment and various ails. "What can you do?" Eat Grape-Nuts and Cream instead of bread, potatoes, pastry, wheat, oats, etc., etc., because in Grape-Nuts food the starchy parts of wheat and barley have, in the process of manufacture, been transformed into a form of sugar perfectly digestible.

Starchy food is demanded by Nature to supply energy and warmth to the body, but it should be so prepared that the human system can make use of it without overtaxing the digestive machinery.

FIRST SNOW AND CRIMPY WEATHER

Wintry blasts, chilling one to the marrow, with a trace of snow falling during the hours of the morning, descended upon La Crosse today. The thermometer showed a drop of 26 degrees since yesterday. Freezing weather is the forecast for tonight and Wednesday morning.

The snow this morning was the first of the season. Between 6 and 6:30 o'clock slight traces of the soft, silky, white flakes, a chilly reminder of the near approach of winter, might be seen. During the noon hour the flakes were more plentiful and to all were plainly visible. In several places the fall was thick, leaving a slight cover on the ground for the moment.

The stiff northwesterly wind which blew yesterday and last night brought the cold spell. The thermometer fell to 38 degrees. Weather Forecaster Oberholzer had predicted 40 degrees yesterday. The highest temperature Monday was 64, showing that a total drop of 26 degrees was experienced in about twenty-eight hours.

With the freezing weather, forecasted for tonight and tomorrow, a change in the wind from northwesterly to westerly is expected. During the change a gradual decrease in velocity will accompany it.

Slight damage is reported from market gardeners and farmers as a result of the cold spell. Sufficient warning had been given them to allow the tender plants and vegetables to be protected. Damage may be done tonight if the freezing point is reached.

Throughout the northwest cold weather is reported.

"PRESIDENT" WINS FIRST HEAT

The President, owned by Wilson & Robertson, La Crosse, won the first heat in the 2:8 trot at Lexington, Ky., yesterday. The race was not finished.

In the second heat the President was third, W. J. Lewis winning. The time of the local horse in the first heat was 2:07 1/4.

CARGILL-M'MILLAN BULLS WIN PRIZE

"Privateer II," owned by Cargill & McMillan, La Crosse, won the first prize in the record class for 2-year-old bulls in the Royal Cattle show at Kansas City yesterday.

The local firm also won in the senior bull class with Bonnie Brae III. Other Wisconsin cattle raisers also won firsts.

LOWE PRESIDENT OF PASTORS ASSN.

At the first fall meeting of the Pastors' union yesterday morning Rev. J. S. Lowe, pastor of the Universalist church, was elected president of the organization. Other officers elected were:

First vice—Rev. C. L. Hocking, Onalaska.

Second vice—Rev. Schlein.
Secretary and treasurer—Rev. J. W. Hoag.

Fraternal delegate to Trades and Labor council—Rev. J. L. Panzani.

Resolutions of regret over the departure of Rev. Henry Goodsell of the West Avenue Methodist Episcopal church who leaves soon for California, were passed, including an endorsement of his effective work here.

SOUTHEASTERN LIKELY TO GO TO MADISON, WIS.

MADISON is to be the southern terminus of the La Crosse & Southeastern, probably. From the surveys being made in that direction from Viroqua, the present end of the line, it is deduced that Madison will be the connecting link with the lines of the Illinois Central, forming a new road to La Crosse from Chicago, about the length of the Chicago & Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

The local officials of the Southeastern have nothing to say.

Miss Maude Findeisen of Red Lake Falls, Minn., has been visiting Miss Helyn Findeisen of the North side.

TO SIMPLIFY RATE TARIFFS

(Tribune Special Service.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today began a hearing to construct rules for the simplification of rate tariffs. Eight propositions are included in the contemplated action of the commission, and they include the filing of joint tariffs by the initial line; the printing of the schedules of each initial line as an independent document; the filing with the commission by participating lines of general authority to the initial line in their behalf of all joint tariffs of a special kind; the separation of class and commodity rates; the filing of a detailed index showing all commodity rates in effect so that each commodity can be easily located; limiting any tariff to five supplements and any classification to ten supplements; the entire classification or tariff to be reprinted where there is an excess; the observance of a uniform order in the compilation of rates; the proper specification in the tariff of the initial line of all terminal charges; the absorption of switching or terminal charges where it affects the total cost to the shipper shall be stated upon the tariff.

MUST EXERCISE BEES

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 9.—Because confinement of bees in a show window was held cruel, as the bees had no chance to take exercise, G. K. Stevenson, a grocer, will send them out to the country for some fresh air today. An agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals saw the grocer's display and warned him to give the bees a change if he would avoid prosecution.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. The position is for three years or until the exposition is held.

CONFERENCE OF PREMIERS

(Tribune Special Service.)
OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 9.—Much interest attaches to the conference begun here today by the provincial premiers and representatives of the federal government. The conference is holding its sittings in the railway committee room of the senate, where the representatives of the several provinces were formally greeted at the opening today by Sir Wilfrid Laurier on behalf of the Dominion.

While the invitation to the conference mentions only rearrangements of the provincial subsidies as a matter for discussion, there is nothing to prevent other subjects from being brought forward. There is considerable speculation as to what will be included in the list of other questions to be considered. Among those most likely to receive attention is the question of agreeing to make no further reductions in the representation of Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Then there is the question of apportioning the section of the Northwest Territory about Hudson and James bays, between Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan so as to give each of these provinces access to salt water.

There is also the question of jurisdiction of the fisheries and the action of Prince Edward Island and Quebec in taxing commercial travellers from other provinces and countries. The preservation of Niagara falls and the regulation by the Province of Ontario of companies incorporated and given authority by the Dominion to do business throughout Canada are two other matters which are likely to be discussed.

DIES AT FUNERAL

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 9.—During the funeral of 7-year-old Myrtle Earle, who died from eating toadstools, mistaken for mushrooms, her 11-year-old brother, Gordin, also died of the same poison. Their mother, Mrs. Robert Earle, who also ate of the poisonous fungi, is not expected to live. The fatal supper was served last Thursday, but the family did not call physicians until Friday.

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS

(Tribune Special Service.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—Leading wholesale druggists from every part of the United States are gathered in Washington for the thirty-second annual convention of their association, which will be in session here during the remainder of this week. Several matters combine to make the present meeting the most important ever held by the association, and as a consequence the attendance is likewise unusually large and representative. The suit instituted by the federal government to break up the alleged drug trust, the effects of the pure food law which has just become operative upon the drug trade, the crusade in New York for pure drugs and which has now spread throughout the country—these and other matters of equal importance are awaiting the consideration of the convention. The president of the association who will preside over the sessions, is Lucien B. Hall of Cleveland, and the secretary, J. E. Toms of Indianapolis.

G. O. P. LEADERS TO SPEAK

(Tribune Special Service.)
BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 9.—The annual dinner of the republican Club of Massachusetts, to be held tonight in Symphony Hall, will mark the formal opening of the republican state campaign. The announced speakers include Senator Beveridge of Indiana, Congressman Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, and Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Maine.

TENNESSEE STATE FAIR

(Tribune Special Service.)
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9.—This was the opening day of the Tennessee State Fair and it proved one of the best attended opening days in the history of the annual state exhibition. Visitors are already here from every section of the state and more are arriving on every train. Those who visited the exhibition today pronounced it the "biggest and best" ever held here. Every department is well filled with choice exhibits, but the agricultural and live stock displays are worthy of especial note. The amusement and entertainment features are also above the average of former years.

A Dozen Times a Night.

Mrs. Owen Dunn, of Benton Ferry, W. Va., writes: "I have had kidney and bladder trouble for years, and it became so bad that I was obliged to get up at least a dozen times a night. I never received any permanent benefit from any medicine until I tried Foley's Kidney Cure. After using two bottles, I am cured." Sold by O. T. Erhart.

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF SCROFULA

The laws of nature and heredity are fixed and invariable. Parents who are related by the ties of blood, or who have a consumptive tendency, or family blood taint, are sure to transmit it to their children in the form of Scrofula. Swollen glands, brittle bones, weak eyes, hip disease, pale, waxy complexions, emaciated bodies, running sores and ulcers, and general weak constitutions are the principal ways in which the disease is manifested. Those who have inherited this blighting trouble may succeed in holding it in check during young, vigorous life; but after a spell of sickness, or when the system has begun to weaken and lose its natural vitality, the ravages of the disease will become manifest and sometimes run into Consumption. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out the scrofulous deposits, kills the germs and completely cures the disease. It changes the quality of the blood by removing all impurities and poisons and supplying this vital fluid with rich, health-sustaining qualities. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable medicine and is especially adapted to systems which have been weakened and poorly nourished by scrofulous blood. Literature on Scrofula and medical advice free.

GOOD HEALTH

is the main essential to produce a cheerful state of mind.
Healthfulness is only obtained through the proper care that one takes of themselves, and the food that they eat.
Physicians tell us that all cereal foods are the best for people to eat, because of the nutrition that they possess.

PERFECTION BEER

is a cereal food-brewed from some of the most nutritious grains grown. It is considered food and drink all in one. The bitter of the hops in Perfection Beer is so manifest in every glass that it has received the indorsement of physicians as one of the best tonics known.

The starchy matter of the cereals has been converted into a malt sugar in the process of brewing. In the digestion of foods the human system extracts sugar from the starch of foods, as sugar is the only element that will add fat to the system.

HEARST GETS NEW ORGAN IN THE WEST

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 9.—Hearst will control the editorial policy of the News and Times, Senator Patterson's dailies, after today, when Edward J. Livernash, former editor of the San Francisco Examiner, becomes managing editor. Although no stock was sold to Hearst, it is generally known that in return for leased wire service and other considerations, the papers will support Hearst. The Denver Post, owned by F. G. Bonfile, has long been a Hearst advocate.

SUPREME COURT RECONVENES

(Special Tribune Service.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—After the summer recess the United States supreme court convened yesterday for the October term. On account of the resignation of Justice Brown and the failure to fill his place there is one vacant seat on the bench. The present term promises to be an exceedingly busy one as nearly 500 cases many of them of more than ordinary importance are on the docket.

No business beyond the admission of new members of the bar was transacted today, in accordance with the custom of devoting the first day's sitting to a call upon the president. The justices doffed their official robes and, taking carriages, proceeded to the White House, where they were presented formally to President Roosevelt.

MEETING OF FIRE CHIEFS

(Tribune Special Service.)

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 9.—The annual convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers, the membership of which includes the fire chiefs of the leading cities of the United States and Canada, opened in Dallas today. It is the biggest meeting in the history of the association. Chief Stagg, of Patterson, N. J., called the meeting to order in the rooms of the Commercial club. Mayor Smith and others cordially welcomed the chiefs to Dallas. The visitors are being handsomely entertained. The convention will be in session four days. The best methods of fighting fires and managing departments in small cities will form the principal topic of discussion. Atlanta is putting in a strong bid for the next meeting of the association.

TWO CENT FARE DECISION IS POSTPONED

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 9.—It can be said with almost dead certainty that the Wisconsin railroad rate commission will not give out a decision on the petitions for a 2 cent passenger rate on railroads operating in this state until after the general election on Nov. 6. This information comes from a source so close to the commission that it can be regarded as authoritative.

The principal reason of the commission in deferring action is understood to be the fear that a decision at this time might have considerable influence on the election. The commission desires to avoid all suspicion or semblance of political leaning or bias in its rulings. The democrats in their state platform declared in favor of a 2 cent rate.

The committee on resolutions of the republican state convention here two weeks ago had a spirited fight over the question of the advisability of incorporating such a demand in the republican platform. Assemblyman Ekern, who led the La Follette-Lenroot faction on the committee, insisted on the incorporation of such a plank, but after a long discussion the proposition was voted down.

Senator Hudnall, Levi H. Bancroft, Governor Davidson and other members of the committee believed that in view of the fact that the question of a reduction in passenger rates was pending before the rate commission and that the commission had been working on the matter for more than a year, it would be best to await its decision. If a declaration for a 2 cent rate were incorporated in the platform and the commission should before election issue an order sustaining the present rate or making a reduction not as low as 2 cents a mile, the republican party, it was agreed, would find itself in an embarrassing position in trying to justify a plank calling for a 2 cent rate.

AMERICAN BOARD MEETING

(Tribune Special Service.)

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Oct. 9.—The ninety-sixth annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions convened today and will continue until Saturday, dividing its sessions between this city and Williamstown. Between 200 and 300 corporate members were present at the opening this afternoon. The initial session was opened with devotional exercises, following which the commissioners listened to the annual reports submitted by the treasurer, F. W. Wiggins, Secretary C. H. Patton of the home department, and the annual survey of the field presented by Rev. Dr. James L. Barton, one of the secretaries. A general summary of the financial reports show that the receipts of the past year were the largest in the history of the board amounting to $913,169. This is a gain over the previous year of $161,020. During the year the board reduced its debt from $176,527 to $85,407.

Tonight the annual sermon is to be delivered by President George A. Gates, D. D. of Pomona College, California. Other distinguished divines and educators who are to take part in the proceedings of the week (including the notable celebration tomorrow of Haystack Centennial Day) are President Henry C. King of Oberlin College, President Henry Hopkins J. Tucker of Dartmouth College, and Prof. Harlan P. Beach of Yale University. Additional to these, men of note are a large number of returned foreign missionaries who bring greetings from China, Japan, Ceylon, Turkey, Africa, Mexico and other foreign lands.

FARMER TELLS IN PLAINWAY MENACE OF THE MAIL ORDER

Man Who Patronizes Chicago Comorant is Ruining his Own Property and its Value

The following from the Dry Goods Reporter on the evils of the mail order house, as viewed by a farmer who has been "stung" is of timely interest here where the mail order house made inroads on the local merchants:

Merchants who are looking for articles on mail-order evil which their local papers can reproduce without injuring local business or unduly advertising the catalogue houses may find good use for the following letter which the reporter reproduces from a local Iowa newspaper. This letter was written by a farmer named Thomas Horrigan. His address is New Brighton, Minn. He had long been a patron of the retail mail-order houses, but finally came to see the folly of patronizing these concerns to the detriment of his home community. His message to the farmers of his locality is in part as follows:

Adds His "Farmer Friends"
"To My Farmer Friends: We as farmers are very willing to admit what the fine-toned orators tell us; that we are the most independent people on earth, and so we could and ought to be, but are not. We are simply the serfs and slaves of those great monstrosities, the retail catalogue houses, which are sapping our financial lives.

"I put it strongly because I hope to awaken you to the realization of the slavery you so voluntarily accept and seemingly enjoy.

"I do not claim to be any different or better than the rest of you in this respect, but I would like to join my fellow farmers in throwing off the thralldom which now exists.

"I do not wish to be considered as arguing from a mean spirit towards my family, but I am tired having my family sitting up nights and devoting Sundays to shopping by mail and buying many things which are not necessary for their happiness or comfort, simply because a bargain counter is constantly spread before them.

"I believe we should build up our own communities and enable our home merchants to give us a good market for our products by standing by them. We can buy all that we need, and on the average as cheaply by doing our business at home, and thus make a better market for our products.

"How can we expect the country stores to thrive and grow if we as farmers refuse to trade with them, but send our money to some distant city which does not interest us or help us in the least?

Should Build Up Local Markets.
"Is it not an object for us to build up our market town and make markets for our products? Does it not add to the value of our land to be able to point to some thriving nearby town with a ready market, with schools and church advantages? Is not land so situated worth more than that which is isolated and distant from everything and everybody?

About the only thing the catalogue houses have left us for ourselves is the production of babies, and I shall not be surprised to see them open foundling hospitals and furnish ready-made babies at reduced rates, avoiding medical expense and the purchase of barrels of soothing syrup.

"My farmer friends, I would be glad to refuse the catalogue table room in my house. I want my family to have all the finery and gewgaws we can afford, but I want them to go to the home merchant to buy them and not give their trade to someone that has no other interest than to take their money.

Merchants' and Farmers' Interests United

"By standing by our home merchants we are standing by each other, and by standing by each other, we all thrive and prosper together.

"Is it to our interest to build up great houses in distant cities? I make the broad assertion that while some things on the surface may seem cheaper than the prices of our home merchant, after we have scrimped ourselves to get the cash and paid the freight and other charges, and paid for things we do not need because they seem cheap, we are actually out of pocket. We are simply gulled by the comorants.

"If we keep depressing and destroying our home merchants, we will find that after a lifetime that our farms are in an isolated region and have not increased in value as they would if we had made a market at our very door.

"I know too well the selfishness of human nature to imagine for a moment you would join in a crusade against catalogue houses if I did not appeal to your cupidity. When you can make and save more money by dealing with your own merchant than with the catalogue man, you will buy at home. It is a fine thing to cut your neighbor's throat if it puts money in your pocket, but when it comes to cutting your own throat, the inducement is not so tempting.

Merchant Extends Credit; Cash Goes Out of Town

"I know farmers who are always in debt to their local merchants while their cash has gone to the railroad for freight bills and to the catalogue houses for articles which do not rank as either luxuries or necessities, but simply as leg-pullers to gull the unsophisticated.

"How would you appreciate selling your stock and products on credit and the purchaser using his money to buy similar articles in a distant market for cash?

"Unless we can stand together and refuse to build up and develop this comorant which preys upon us, we do not deserve to have thriving towns for markets or the advantages which always come from being surrounded by a business community. We have it in our power to help ourselves or to help the other fellow. So far the other fellow seems to have the advantage, while we emulate the role of clumps with brilliant success."

FARMERS' NATIONAL CONGRESS

(Tribune Special Service.)

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 9.—Hundreds of delegates, representing the brains of the agricultural industry in the United States filled the large auditorium here this morning at the opening of the twenty-sixth annual session of the Farmers' National Congress. The delegates come from every state of the union and among them were many of national reputation as experts in scientific farming, in dairying, forestry, irrigation, stock raising and other industries and pursuits allied to the tilling of the soil.

The initial session began at 10 o'clock this morning with addresses of welcome by Mayor George W. McCaskrin, to which responses for the visitors were made by Josiah Strange of Marion, Ind., and B. A. Cameron of North Carolina, both officers of the congress.

The feature of the afternoon session was the annual address of the president, John N. Stahl of Chicago. President Stahl was followed by Jas. Sheakley of Pennsylvania, who spoke of agriculture in Alaska, of which territory he was commissioner and governor for a period of twelve years, during which time he made a special study of the agricultural possibilities of the territory. The remainder of the afternoon was occupied with the appointment of committees and other routine business.

The congress will be in session until the end of the week. The program is regarded as the best ever arranged for a meeting of the organization. Among the prominent persons present and scheduled for addresses are Governor Cummins of Iowa, Congressman Joseph E. Randall of Louisiana, Gifford Pinchot chief of the forest service of the United States department of agriculture; L. Whitney Watkins of Michigan; Hon. Alfred Bayless, state superintendent of public instruction in Illinois; Ralph H. Searle of Nebraska, president of the American Federation of Students of Agriculture; E. B. Cowgill, editor of the Kansas Farmer; former Governor Van Sant of Minnesota, and Salon L. Goode of Indianapolis, president of the National Agricultural Press League.

LEG CAUGHT UNDER A HEAVY ROCK

Joseph C. Van Kirk was seriously injured yesterday afternoon at the Wooley & Hanson stone quarry where he has been employed for some time.

His left leg was caught under a large stone weighing about 300 pounds. The bone was splintered and the leg was badly bruised.

Dr. Callahan called and reduced the fracture and dressed the injured member at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Miller, of 1649 Charles street.

It seems that the men work below each other and let the rock come down in this way, and when it suddenly slipped Mr. Van Kirk's leg was caught before he could lift it.

He will no doubt be laid up for about two months. His home is in Sparta and he will be taken there today.

The evening was spent with games, music and Shakespearian quotations. After the program Miss Strauss was presented with a beautiful gold Carmen bracelet, Mrs. Charles James making the presentation speech.
